Batons and Handcuffs

BATONS AND HANDCUFFS TRAINING COURSE

Overview

A Baton not only affords a Security Officer with a greater amount of protection than totally relying on empty hand control, but also can often be considered an alternative to a firearm. Handcuffs can allow you to control a subject safely until the Police arrive.

Participants

It is recommended that Security Officers, employed in the Security Industry should participate in this specialised training.

Course Outline

Intercepts Batons and Handcuffs course : (1) day program.
PPCT (Pressure Point Control Tactics) Management System Program.

PPCT is considered to be a world leader in the use of force training. PPCT also believes in the "less is best" principle so instead of having lots of techniques, the system techniques are kept to a minimum so you can not only remember how to perform them but it is easy to practice.

The course is broken into two main areas : "Theory and Practice"

Theory Component

Taking a look at the Law in relation to the carriage and use of Batons and Handcuffs, as well as survival stress research and most importantly, when you can and cannot use a Baton and/or your Handcuffs.

Practical Component

Taking a look at the different types of Batons and Handcuffs, their use, the different strikes used to subdue a subject or to defend yourself or another person without causing undue harm. Includes Speed cuffing.

Other recommended courses : Spontaneous Knife Defence, Empty hand techniques, Firearms Accreditation, etc.

How to Enrol : Bookings Essential

Course Cost : $ 150.00
