Provide Responsible Service of Alcohol in NSW - SITHFAB009A

Training Beyond Compare

RSA - Responsible Service of Alcohol

Responsible Service of Alcohol training is now mandatory for people working in the NSW Liquor Industry, including Licensees, Club Secretaries, permanent and casual serving staff, and security staff. You must ensure you have completed an RSA Course from a Board Approved Provider.

Target Audience:

The NSW liquor laws require a LAB-Board Approved RSA course to be completed by:

- all liquor licensees and club secretaries
- all people involved in the retail sale, supply or service of liquor in licensed venues. This includes promotional staff, club directors, and volunteers serving liquor under a function licence, and
- Security Officers working at licensed venues
- these training requirements do not apply to employees of wholesale, brewer and some vigneron licences.

Course Content :

- Identifying the context of Responsible Service of Alcohol
- Public Interest
- Impact of Alcohol Abuse
- Recognising Intoxication
- The Benefits of Adopting Responsible Service Practices

Course Objectives:

This course is Approved by the Liquor Administration Board for the purposes of having an RSA Certificate, as required under Legislation in NSW. Clause 79F of the Liquor Regulation and 47E of the Registered Clubs Regulation make it a condition of a liquor licence or certificate of registration that the licensee or club secretary must keep a register which contains a copy of a recognised Responsible Service of Alcohol (RSA) certificate for each staff member whose duties include the sale, supply or service of liquor.

Duration : 6 hours (You must attend all 6 hours of Mandatory Training)

Expiry Date of RSA Certificates

RSA certificates currently have no expiry date.

Refresher Training Requirements

There is no statutory requirement to undertake refresher training in RSA.
